"And only the Master shall praise us,
And only the Master shall blame,
And no one shall work for money,
And no one shall work for fame.

But each for the joy of the working,
And each in his separate star,
Shall draw the things as he sees them,
For the God of the things that are."

A Tribute

Used through the courtesy of the N. H. F. W. C.

ELIZA NELSON BLAIR, the first vice president and second president of the New Hampshire Federation of Woman's Clubs, passed from earthly life at Washington, D. C., Jan. 2, 1907. She was a woman of noble type, among the foremost New Hampshire has produced. She had rich intellectual gifts which were matched by the sweetness, strength and beauty of her character. She had clear vision, a broad, statesmanlike grasp of affairs, a tenacious memory, executive and organizing talent of a high order, and a capacity for patient, conscientious work. Unassuming, calm and self-poised, considerate and tactful always, sympathetic and helpful, quick to respond to the note of mirth, she was ever a delightful companion, and a loyal friend, best loved by those who knew her best.

She was interested in all things that tend to the uplift of humanity, and her influence and efforts were given to the promotion of the cause of temperance, better education of the masses, the advancement of the position of women, equal suffrage, equal parental rights, child labor laws, the founding of hospitals, and wholesome conditions for workers.

She believed in the power for good of the woman's club, not only to the individual members, but in its far-reaching influence upon the community. It is largely due to the great organizing ability and wise direction of Mrs. Blair that the New Hampshire Federation was early established upon such a wise basis that it at once took rank among the foremost.

Mrs. Blair's work is done. Her gracious presence we may not know again. We cannot estimate the value of her work nor the extent of her influence. We know that the world is better for her having lived and we can truly say in the words adopted by the New Hampshire's Daughters Club: "We are thankful for the life of usefulness so faithfully lived, for the example for women of the possibilities of a woman's influence in the larger affairs of city and state, and for the clear intellect and steadiness of purpose which all her work expressed."

OLIVE RAND CLARKE.
